Howard Gould Put in Defense to His Wife's Allegations of Desertion at Trial Today-Willing to Return to Her on Condition that She Give Up Booze, Not Humiliate Him in Presence of His Friends and Allow Him to Audit Her Bills.

(Special from United Press.) New York, June 15.-Howard Gould, millionaire and yachtsman, today put in his defense to his wife's allegations of desertion when the trial of Katherine Clemmons Gould's suit for a legal separation and alimony was remed before Justice Dowling today. Gould had an army of witnesses on drinking that she was "flushed."

"Were you close enough to smell her breath?" "I didn't get any nearer to her than I could help," was the reply. This incensed Justice Dowling, who mapped out: "These altercations with servants must be stopped." The court then ruled that Gould's attorneys must show that Mrs. Gould was intoxicated and that nothing else would be permitted to be brought into the record. Continuing Mälloy declared that "about the middle of July he saw Mrs. Gould under the influence of liquor of "about the middle of July he saw Mrs. Gould under the influence of liquor of some sort." The following day he swore she had champagne for luncheon and reprimanded him. "When she went upstairs I won't say that she lunged, but she was very unsteady."

Malloy saw Mrs. Gould a few days later when she called him "an insolent puppy" and "alien hostler" and "a liar." On Nov. 6, 1906, when he attempted to take cattle back to the barn which Mrs. Gould was having removed he declared that he believed she was intoxicated.

He admitted he had been re-employed by Gould about the time of the separation and that he would like to see him win the case. Asked about his feeling toward Mrs. Gould, he stated that he "felt very sorry for her."

BOUNOIL AGAIN IN THE TOILS

Once again is Joseph Bounoil, proprietor of the Lafayette Hotel, Middle street, in the toils of the police. His case was continued in the City Court, this morning, until June 22. The warrant for Bounoil was issued by Prosecuting Liquor Agent F. B. Fallon, upon the complaint of Axel Johnson's Detectice Agency. A colored detective in the service of the agency, which is just new working for the Law Enforcement League, alleges that he was Ingan. forcement League, alleges that he was invited into the Bounoil establishment by a colored woman. They went to a room, and ordered a drink, which was served in a bottle. The detective grabbed the bottle and got out.

The appraisers on the estate of the late Thomas W. Pearsall, years ago floor broker in the New York Stock Exchange for Jay Gould, reported the velue of his estate to the probate court, this morning, as above $300,000. The real estate is valued at $115,000 and the personal property at $194,421. The valuation includes only the real estate in Connecticut, which is comprised mainly of the Pearsall mansion, with its grounds, at Black Rock. In the list returned by the appraisers are 23 parcels of stocks marked These securities have a par value amounting to many thous-ands of dollars. But they are wild oats of the most feroclous kind. Whether they represent actual invest-ments by Pairsall, or whether they fell into his hands in the course of promoting schemes in which he was in-terested, does not appear. A large portion of the personal property is represented by 520 shares of stock of the Great Northern Railway Co., par $100, which are valued by the appraisers at $147 per share.

The appraisers were William H. Griffith, H. S. Shelton and Henry C. Stevenson. The estate is worth less than had popularly been supposed.

ATTACKED BY LION AND FATALLY

(By Warrington Dawson, Staff Corres pondent of the United Press, Naivesha, British East Africa, June 15.-Colonel Roosevelt has at last had the dangers of big game hunting in Africa brought home to him by the mortal injuries sustained by J. Williams, who, while hunting with F. C. Selous and W. N. MacMilian Saturday at Sotik, was attacked by a lion and fatally injured. The runner who arrived to-day with news from the Roosevelt camp did not state whether Mr. Roosevelt was a witness of the tragedy or not but as Selous was to act as the guide for the ex-President, it was infrered that the latter was also with the party.

Williams was attacked by the lion after it had been shot. His shoulder was broken and his flesh ripped into shreds in a dozen places. "ROYAL ASCOT," ENGLAND'S POLICE AND TRUMBULL GREATEST RACING MEET OPENS AT ASCOT TRACK

Ascot Race Track, England, June 15. "Royal Ascot," England's greatest racing meet, the occasion of the greatest social reunions of the torrid season, began to-day. As the day advanced the sun came out strong with the result that the scene was the most brilliant in the history of the old In the trial stakes James R. Keene's Ballot went to the post for the first time in England. He had top weight, 140 pounds and the stable did not expect him to show but it was did not expect him to show but it was hoped the race would put him on edge for the gold cup on Thurseday in which he promises to be a strong competitor. The stable "Dope" was good as, after showing prominently in the early stages, he fell back and finished next to last in the field of six. The race was won by J. Daley's St. Mimic who was 4 to 1.

Although the stable did not expect to win with Ballot, the general public who had been impressed by the reports of his work, backed him heavily, he going in the race at odds of 6 to 4. In the race for the gold vase Lord Falmouth's Amadis, 5 to 2 Earl, won; R. Mills' Jackson 2 to 1, Wooten, second; J. Arthschild's Bomba, 100 to 7,
